the first time, the author has been able to find a single specimen of Leptothrix which was not associated with a tumor. This specimen was obtained from a 10-year-old female monkey which had been captured in the forest near the town of Kibale. The monkey was in excellent condition and was not infested with any parasites. The monkey was captured by a local hunter who had been tracking it for several days. The monkey was captured in a trap and was then killed. The monkey was skinned and the skin was sent to the author for examination. The monkey was found to be healthy and there were no signs of disease. The monkey was found to be infested with a number of parasites, including Leptothrix. The monkey was found to be infested with a number of parasites, including Leptothrix.
